
18. VO: "We now look at all of the people who voted bear as their first choice, and see if they had chosen a second choice candidate. We reallocate all of those second choice votes to the remaining candidates. If no winner appears we'll go to a third round."

Bears votes split and join the other candidate's bars.

19. Bears votes split and join the other candidate's bars. Now Badger has more than 50% of the total votes.

VO: "More of Bears voters preferred you Badger and you now more than half of the votes. So the the winner of Great Britain's favourite dancing animal is Badger".

20. Badger celebrates.

20. The bars disappear and the animals return to their dancing loop.

VO: "What would've happened if we had used the FPTP system? Would Badger still have won? Click the box to find out.

22. VO: Remember, on May 5th there is a referendum to decide the way that we vote. First Past the Post or Alternative? Will you change the way we vote forever? On May 5th YOU decide."
Viewers are able to interact by clicking to replay the 'Alternative vote' sequence, click 'First past the post' or click 'Find out more at aboutmyvote.co.uk'.