The brief is fine - however… Alex is going to have to agree to this first… I had a meeting with him yesterday which he had to cancel… but have rescheduled for tomorrow… I'll make sure we def cover it then…

In the meantime, you can send to Clinton - but he won't be able to sign off until Alex has been taken verbally through.

Hope makes sense.

Subject: Digital brief sign off

Hi

May seems to think we will be going ahead with Glue – she has spoken to them already and is awaiting some case studies and examples of their work so she can see they have the resources and capability.

As time is going to be very tight, we need to get the brief out on the next couple of days. May is happy with what is in it so it just needs your sign off now: <\\ECS_DATA1\xdrive\Elections and Referendums\UK Referendums - AV\Campaigns\Briefs\COI-digital-combined-brief-v1.doc>

You have seen both the brief as separate docs already – are you happy therefore for it to go to Clinton?

Many thanks

Chrys
