

We're based on the ground floor of Seatem House on Alfred Street, in the city centre business area located behind Belfast City Hall.

On foot

From Donegall Square South at the rear of the City Hall, walk along Linenhall Street and take the third left into Clarence Street. At the end of Clarence Street you will be facing St Malachy's church, on Alfred Street, which has several distinctive pink turrets. Turn right and Seatem House is just a few metres past the church on the same side of the street.

By rail and bus

The nearest rail and bus station is the combined Europa Travel Centre and Great Victoria Street station, situated to the rear of the Europa Hotel on Great Victoria Street. Take the Great Victoria Street exit, cross over the road and walk down Amelia Street. Follow the road around the square and turn right on to Franklin Street. Walk along this until it crosses Alfred Street (the fifth street), and then turn right on to it. Walk past St Malachy's Church and Seatem House is just a few metres past the church on the same side of the street.

By air

From Belfast City Airport or Belfast International Airport take the Airbus service to the Europa Travel Centre in Belfast city centre. Then follow the instructions given above to find Seatem House. The service runs every 30–40 minutes Monday to Saturday.
