User Guide for Post poll data collection General Election 2019

The way the electoral commission is collecting electoral administrative data is changing. We are asking you to submit a reduced set of data to us via an online platform rather than returning data to us in excel.

We are changing the process to make it easier for everyone involved. The volume of requested data is smaller and submitting it is easier. For information, the data requested for the 2019 UK Parliamentary general election is set out below. We have, as usual, shared this with your EMS supplier to allow them to develop any necessary reports in the system.

As soon as you receive your registration email (on the 18/12/2019) we would appreciate it if you carry out stages 1-4 below. You don't need any information that you need to look up in order to register, set up a password and select constituencies. They should not take you more than a couple of minutes.

The deadline for final post poll data submission is 17.01.2020.

Setting up your account

The first step will be to register on the new system:

1. You will receive a registration e-mail

   - You should receive an email on 18/12/2019 to your local authority election email address (see from page 9 for the list of generic email addresses that we are sending emails) from research@electoralcommission.org.uk.

   - To create your account please click on the link in the email.

   - Note that if you have not received an email it could be in the spam/ junk email address (of your election services email address).

   - If you have not received the email then then please email research@electoralcommission.org.uk

2. Setting up a password

   - You will be asked to set up a password for your account. Note the complexity requirement for the password specified on the page.

   - Please note: If others in your department need access to the system please share the password details with them.

3. Log-in

- You will then be redirected to the log-in page after you register (this is also the page where you will be able to log-in in the future).

- Your username will be the email address that received the registration email on (e.g. elections@boroughcouncil.gov.uk). Note it might be the case that multiple different email addresses are received into one mail box with a different name. If this is the case please see the end of this guide where all usernames/ email addresses are listed.

- Forgotten password? From this log-in page you can select 'Forgot your password' to create a new password.

4. Selecting the constituencies

- The first time you login you will see the 'Select Constituencies' screen.

- We need you to select the constituency or constituencies for which you are responsible for collecting electoral data. If you have joint electoral services with another local authority then we will need you to include all constituencies from both local authorities under a single account.

- On the left of the screen is a list of constituencies which you can either use the search text box or use the arrow toggles to look through the list of constituencies.

- You can either:
  - o Double click on the constituency to select
  - o Click on the constituency name and then click on 'Select'

- Please note: Don't worry if your other constituency appears to disappear when you search for another constituency it will remember any constituency selected.

- Once you have finished selecting all of your constituencies click 'Next' (at the bottom of the page) to proceed.

- Please note: Don't worry if you click 'Next' before you have finished adding constituencies. On the next page you can click on 'Manage constituencies' to return to the selection page.

Completing and submitting the data

You are now able to add data for any selected constituencies.

5. Post-Poll Response Dashboard

- After you have selected the constituency you will see a dashboard which includes all your selected constituencies.

- If all your constituencies which your local authority works are not shown then click on 'Manage constituencies' to go back to the 'Select Constituencies' page.

- To enter the data for a constituency click on 'Create response'.

6. Filling in data – Post-poll response

- There are 5 different question areas: Electorate & Votes counted, Postal Ballots, Proxies & Waivers, Registration and Misc.

- You can fill in the questions in any order you want. You can click on the category names on the left-hand side of the screen to change categories it will automatically save what you have entered when you go to a new page.

- For all fields you have the option to: Select if you have any doubts over the data being accurate. If you select this please explain in the open text box provided what makes you unsure about the data.

- For some fields you will have the option to say that: we do not have the data. Also if you could explain why you do not collect this data in the text box that will appear.

- If you want to log out at any stage just click on 'Save as draft' at the bottom of the 'Post-poll response' screen.

Logic Checks

- There are logic checks to ensure that all answers are valid.

- Next to the category names on the left hand-side a tick or cross will be displayed according to whether it's passed the logic check (this will only happen once you click next). If you then click back on this category it will tell you below the answer box why it failed the check.

- If you think you have a legitimate answer which is deemed illegitimate please contact the electoral commission at research@electoralcommission.org.uk

7. Submitting the data

- When you have finished entering data and are ready to submit then a new option should appear which says Finalise Data Submission. Select this.

- If you scroll down on the summary page if you have passed all the logic checks then you will get the option to submit data.

- Once you have submitted data you will go back to the Post Poll response dashboard & have the opportunity to fill out for any other constituencies you might have.

Frequently asked questions

Why are you emailing the registration links to generic email addresses and not to named individuals?

We are sending the links to these addresses (eg elections@council.gov.uk) because this email will be the one which receives reminders and follow up messages (for issues such as forgotten passwords). If these messages were only sent to a named individual in each elections team it might mean that they are missed or inaccessible to other members of the team. Using the generic emails (listed below) should allow teams to share access to the portal as well as to see the communications we send. It also hopefully avoid issues where individual members of staff change roles or leave the organisation.

When can you fill in the data?

As soon as you have the data. You don't have to fill all the data in one go, the platform will save your responses. You will receive periodic email reminders until the full dataset has been submitted.

When is the deadline for data submission?

The deadline for submitting the data is Friday 17th January 2020.

What do you do if you receive an email telling you that your data has been rejected?

The email should tell you for what reason the data has been rejected. It will include a link for you to click on to login to the portal. You will then need to resubmit your data to us even if you are reconfirming your previous answers (you won't need to re-enter the answers).

You keep receiving reminders but you have already filled in the data for the constituency that you fill in

You will continually get reminders until the data has been submitted for all constituencies in your local authority. Even if you fill in data for one constituency you will still get reminders until all linked constituencies data is submitted.

Can I send my data in another format for the electoral commission to enter in the portal?

No we will not accept the data in any other format. You will need to enter in the data for all the constituencies that your local authority is responsible for.

How do I go back to the portal to fill in any outstanding data?

Here is a link or you will find the link on the data collection section of the website.

Where do I send my Form K?

Our focus will be the collection of the data requested via the new platform. However, you will still be able to return completed Form Ks to the Commission in the usual way (by emailing research@electoralcommission.org.uk).

Further information

If you have any problems using the system or any questions not answer by this user guide. Please contact us at research@electoralcommission.org.uk or on 020 7271 0542 (Monday to Friday 9am-5pm).
