

Polling station handbook insert: combined authority/combined county authority mayoral election, local elections, and Police and Crime Commissioner elections in England

How to use this document

Where a local election in England is combined with a combined authority/combined county authority mayoral election as well as a Police and Crime Commissioner election, most of the polling station procedures will be the same. However, there are a small number of procedures that will be different from those described in the 'Handbook for polling station staff: Supporting local government and Police and Crime Commissioner elections'.

The polling station handbook should therefore be read alongside this document. Any references to 'elections' in the polling station handbook should be taken to include a combined authority or combined county authority mayoral election and any references to 'local government election' should be read as also applying to a combined authority or combined county authority mayoral election, unless otherwise stated in this document.

We have included the changes / additions on individual sheets in this document, so that they can be printed off and inserted into the relevant parts of the handbook for ease of reference.

At Appendix 1 you find the updated prescribed questions to be used at the polls by Presiding Officers. This has been set out in full as a replacement for the prescribed questions contained in the polling station handbook. This should be printed off and provided to Presiding Officers for use when asking the prescribed questions.

Who may be present in the polling station? (replacement paragraph page 11)

At both the Police and Crime Commissioner election and the Combined Authority Mayoral election, an election agent may appoint sub-agents to attend the polling station on their behalf. Throughout this handbook, any reference to the election agent includes any sub-agents acting on their behalf.

The prescribed questions (Replacement; Appendix 5a, pp 51-56)

When asking the questions for the local government, the Police and Crime Commissioner and the combined authority mayoral elections, the Presiding Officer should be clear which question relates to which contest.

Whenever the Presiding Officer refuses to issue ballot papers because the elector has not answered one of the prescribed questions satisfactorily, polling station staff must check the Ballot Paper Refusal List (BPRL) to see if the elector has already been recorded:

- If they have already been recorded, update the existing entry to record that they have been refused again, writing the number '3' in the Reason for refusal column.
- If they have not been recorded, make a new entry including the voter's elector number (or the proxy's name and address) and write the number '3' in the Reason for refusal column.

The required information to be given to a person before asking the prescribed questions in all scenarios

Where the prescribed questions are to be put to a voter, the Presiding Officer must provide some additional information before asking them the questions.

Before asking a person the prescribed questions, the Presiding Officer must first inform them that:

- ballot papers will be refused if the person fails to answer each question satisfactorily, and
- giving false information may be an offence

The prescribed questions to be asked of a person applying to vote as an elector

'What is your name?'

If the elector is unable to provide their name, do not issue ballot papers.

If the elector provides their name, then ask:

'What is your address?'

If the elector is unable to provide the address which appears on the polling station register, do not issue ballot papers.

If the elector provides the address which appears on the polling station register, then ask:

For the local election:

'Are you the person registered in the register of local government electors for this election as follows (you must then read out loud the whole entry from the register)?'

AND

For the Police and Crime Commissioner election:
‘Are you the person registered in the register of electors as follows (you must then read out loud the whole entry from the register)’?

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:

‘Are you the person registered in the register of local government electors for this election as follows (you must then read out loud the whole entry from the register)’?

If the answer is ‘no’, do not issue ballot papers.

If the answer is ‘yes’, then ask:

For the local election:

‘Have you already voted, here or elsewhere at this election for this *(district), *(county), *(London borough), *(county borough) (*read out whichever is applicable, adding, in the case of an election for several electoral areas, ‘in this or any other electoral area’) otherwise than as proxy for some other person?’

AND

For the Police and Crime Commissioner election:

‘Have you already voted in this election of a police and crime commissioner, here or elsewhere, otherwise than as a proxy for some other person?’

AND

For the combined authority mayoral:

‘Have you already voted here or elsewhere at this election for a combined authority mayor otherwise than as proxy for some other person?’

If the answer is ‘yes’ to these questions, do not issue ballot papers.

If the person has answered ‘yes’ to the third, fourth and fifth question and ‘no’ to the sixth, seventh and eighth question, ordinary or tendered ballot papers must be issued as appropriate.

The prescribed questions to be asked of a person applying to vote as a proxy (but not on behalf of an elector with an anonymous entry)

The prescribed questions for proxies have different wording:

‘What is your name?’

If the proxy is unable to provide their name, do not issue ballot papers.

If the proxy provides their name, then ask:

‘What is your address?’

If the proxy is unable to provide the address which appears on the list of proxies, do not issue ballot papers.

If the proxy provides the address which appears on the list of proxies, then ask:

For the local election:

‘Are you the person whose name appears as (read out the name that appears in the list of proxies) in the list of proxies for this election as entitled to vote as proxy on behalf of (the name of the elector on the register)?'

AND

For the Police and Crime Commissioner election:

'Are you the person whose name appears as (read out the name that appears in the list of proxies) in the list of proxies for this election of a police and crime commissioner as the person entitled to vote as proxy on behalf of (read out the name of the elector on the register)?'

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:

'Are you the person whose name appears as (read out the name that appears in the list of proxies) in the list of proxies for this election as entitled to vote as proxy on behalf of (the name of the elector on the register)?'

If the answer is 'no', do not issue ballot papers.

If the answer is 'yes', then ask:

For the local election:

'Have you already voted here or elsewhere at this election for this *(district), *(county), *(London borough), *(county borough) (*read out whichever is applicable, adding, in the case of an election for several electoral areas, 'in this or any other electoral area'), as proxy on behalf of (read out the name of the elector on the register)?'

AND

For the Police and Crime Commissioner election:

'Have you already voted in this election of a police and crime

commissioner, here or elsewhere, as the person entitled to vote as proxy on behalf of (read out the name of the elector on the register)?'

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:

'Have you already voted here or elsewhere at this election for a combined authority mayor as proxy on behalf of (read out the name of the elector on the register)?'

If the answer is 'yes' to these questions ballot papers must not be issued.

If the answer is 'no', then ask:

For the local election: '

Disregarding any parliamentary election or police and crime commissioner election, have you already voted as proxy at this election or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this electoral area or anywhere else in England, on behalf of four or more electors?

AND

For the PCC election:

'Have you already voted as proxy at this election or any other police and crime commissioner election for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this police area or in any other police area, on behalf of four or more electors?'

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:

‘Disregarding any parliamentary election or police and crime commissioner election, have you already voted as proxy at this election or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this electoral area or anywhere else in England, on behalf of four or more electors?’

If the answer is yes, a ballot paper must not be issued.

If the answer to this question is ‘no’ then ask:

For the local election:
‘Disregarding any parliamentary election or police and crime commissioner election, have you already voted as proxy at this election or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this electoral area or anywhere else in England, on behalf of two or more electors?’

AND

For the PCC election:
‘Have you already voted as a proxy at this election or any other police and crime commissioner election for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this police area or in any other police area, on behalf of two or more electors?’

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:
‘Disregarding any parliamentary election or police and crime commissioner election, have you already voted as proxy at this election or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this electoral area or anywhere else in England, on behalf of two or more electors?’

If the answer is no, an ordinary or tendered ballot paper must be issued as appropriate.

If the answer to this question is ‘yes’ then ask:

For the local election:
‘Were two or more of the electors on whose behalf you have voted in this election, or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?’

AND

For the PCC election:
‘Were two or more of the electors on whose behalf you have voted in this election, or any other police and crime commissioner election for which the day of poll is today, registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?’

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:
‘Were two or more of the electors on whose behalf you have voted in this election, or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?’

If the answer is no, an ordinary or tendered ballot paper must be issued as appropriate.

If the answer is 'yes', then ask:

For the local election:

“Is the elector (or are the electors) for whom you are voting today registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?”

AND

For the PCC election:

‘Is the elector (or are the electors) for whom you are voting today registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?’

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:

‘Is the elector (or are the electors) for whom you are voting today registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?’

If the answer to this question is 'yes', do not issue ballot papers.

If the answer is 'no' (and the questions above have been answered satisfactorily), ordinary or tendered ballot papers must be issued as appropriate.

The prescribed questions to be asked of a person applying to vote as a proxy for an elector with an anonymous entry

‘What is your name?’

If the proxy is unable to provide their name, do not issue ballot papers.

If the proxy provides their name, then ask:

‘What is your address?’

If the proxy is unable to provide the address which appears on the list of proxies, do not issue ballot papers.

If the proxy provides the address which appears on the list of proxies, then ask:

For the local election:

‘Are you the person entitled to vote as proxy on behalf of the elector whose number on the register of electors is (read out the number from the register)?’

AND

For the Police and Crime Commissioner election:

‘Are you the person entitled to vote as proxy on behalf of the elector whose number on the register of electors is (read out the number from the register)?’

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:

‘Are you the person entitled to vote as proxy on behalf of the elector whose number on the register of electors is (read out the number from the register)?’

If the answer is 'no', do not issue ballot papers.

If the answer is 'yes', then ask:

For the local election:

‘Have you already voted here or elsewhere as proxy on behalf of the elector whose number on the register of electors is (read out the number of the elector on the register)?’

AND

For the Police and Crime Commissioner election:

‘Have you already voted here or elsewhere as proxy on behalf of the elector whose number on the register of electors is (read out the number of the elector on the register)?’

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:

‘Have you already voted here or elsewhere as proxy on behalf of the elector whose number on the register of electors is (read out the number of the elector on the register)?’

If the answer is ‘yes’ to this question, ballot papers must not be issued.

If the answer is ‘no’ you must also ask:

For the local election:

‘Disregarding any parliamentary election or police and crime commissioner election, have you already voted as proxy at this election or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this electoral area or anywhere else in England, on behalf of four or more electors?’

AND

For the PCC election:

‘Have you already voted as proxy at this election or any other police and crime commissioner election for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this police area or in any other police area, on behalf of four or more electors?’

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:

‘Disregarding any parliamentary election or police and crime commissioner election, have you already voted as proxy at this election or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this electoral area or anywhere else in England, on behalf of four or more electors?’

If the answer is yes, a ballot paper must not be issued.

If the answer to this question is ‘no’ then ask:

For the local election:

‘Disregarding any parliamentary election or police and crime commissioner election, have you already voted as proxy at this election or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this electoral area or anywhere else in England, on behalf of two or more electors?’

AND

For the PCC election:

‘Have you already voted as a proxy at this election or any other police and crime commissioner election for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this police area or in any other police area,

on behalf of two or more electors?’

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:

‘Disregarding any parliamentary election or police and crime commissioner election, have you already voted as proxy at this election or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, whether here or elsewhere in this electoral area or anywhere else in England, on behalf of two or more electors?’

If the answer is no, an ordinary or tendered ballot paper must be issued as appropriate.

If the answer to this question is ‘yes’ then ask:

For the local election:

‘Were two or more of the electors on whose behalf you have voted in this election, or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?’

AND

For the PCC election:

‘Were two or more of the electors on whose behalf you have voted in this election, or any other police and crime commissioner election for which the day of poll is today, registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?’

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:

‘Were two or more of the electors on whose behalf you have voted in this election, or any other election or referendum for which the day of poll is today, registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?’

If the answer is no, an ordinary or tendered ballot paper must be issued as appropriate.

If the answer is ‘yes’, then ask:

For the local election:

‘Is the elector (or are the electors) for whom you are voting today registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?’

AND

For the PCC election:

‘Is the elector (or are the electors) for whom you are voting today registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?’

AND

For the combined authority mayoral election:

‘Is the elector (or are the electors) for whom you are voting today registered in a register of electors otherwise than in pursuance of a service declaration?’

If the answer is yes, a ballot paper must not be issued.

If the answer to this question is ‘no’ (and all of the above questions have been answered satisfactorily), ordinary or tendered ballot papers must be issued as appropriate.

The prescribed questions to be asked of a person applying to vote in person when they are shown on the register as a postal voter

The following prescribed questions are for electors shown on the register as postal voters, but who:

- claim either to have not applied to vote by post, or
- present themselves at the polling station after 5pm on polling day and claim to have lost or not received their postal ballot papers

‘What is your name?’

If the elector is unable to provide their name, do not issue ballot papers.

If the elector provides their name, then ask:

‘What is your address?’

If the elector is unable to provide the address which appears on the polling station register, do not issue ballot papers.

If the elector provides the address which appears on the polling station register, then ask:

‘Did you apply to vote by post?’ (read out three times – once in respect of each contest)

If the answer is ‘no’, tendered ballot papers must be issued.

If the answer to this question is ‘yes’, then ask:

‘Why have you not voted by post?’ (read out three times – once in respect of each contest)

If the question is answered satisfactorily, the Presiding Officer should record the reason and issue tendered ballot papers.

If, however, the elector says that they have not voted by post because they have lost or not received (all or any part of) their postal ballot pack, tendered ballot papers can only be issued after 5pm.

The prescribed questions to be asked of a person applying to vote as a proxy when they are shown as having been issued with proxy postal ballot papers

The prescribed questions for proxies named on the proxy postal voters list but who claim either to have not applied to vote by post or who present themselves at the polling station after 5pm on polling day and claim to have lost or not received their postal ballot papers are as follows:

‘What is your name?’

If the proxy is unable to provide their name, do not issue ballot papers.

If the proxy provides their name, then ask:

‘What is your address?’

If the proxy is unable to provide the address which appears on the list of proxies, do not issue ballot papers.

If the proxy provides the address which appears on the list of proxies, then ask:

‘Did you apply to vote by post as proxy?’ (read out three times – once in respect of each contest)

If the answer is ‘no’, tendered ballot papers must be issued.

If the answer is ‘yes’, then ask:

‘Why have you not voted by post as proxy?’ (read out three times

– once in respect of each contest)

If the question is answered satisfactorily, the Presiding Officer should record the reason and issue tendered ballot papers.

If, however, the proxy says that they have not voted by post because they have lost or not received (all or any part of) their postal ballot pack, tendered ballot papers can only be issued after 5pm
